THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, SEPT. 16, 1879.

EVER since Mr. Hennessy succeeded in staying off consideration of the complaints of the Colonists for several months, we have ceased to expect a favourable reply from the Secretary of State for the Colonies. The answer, therefore, vouchsafed at this late date to the residents of Hongkong by Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, in reference to the Resolutions passed at the public meeting held on 7th October last, is just what might have been expected. What His Excellency did in this matter—viz., obtained a postponement of the action
at home—unmistakably led not only to a shelving of the real questions at issue,
but to an apparent consideration to a specific portion merely of the grievances complained of. An open and free criticism of the causes which had brought about the insecurity of the Colony has thus been "buried"—we use the term
in a Pickwickian sense, of course—and the matter has been disposed of on a side issue. The residents of Hongkong are metaphorically patted on the back,
hushed, as it were, into reassuring confidence by the information that they certainly had cause for alarm, but that a Commission is not necessary, and that the Local Government would look after the interests of its poor terrified subjects.
Now, the Commission, it may be remembered, was not asked for exactly on account of the alarmed state of the Colonists; in fact, the residents of Hongkong are not generally made of that sort of stuff which breeds fear. The Commission was asked for "to inquire into the present administration of the Government, especially as regards the application of the criminal laws, the carrying out of the sentences of the courts, and the relations existing between the head of the Government and the other officials in every department." As a matter of fact, this question, so far as the reply to the meeting is concerned, has been shelved; and, especially at this late date, there is probably good reason why the Colonial Secretary of State does not enter upon so tough a subject in a public despatch. That the action of the community has, at the same time, had its own unwritten and perhaps unex-
pressed effect, we have not the slightest doubt. No unanimous representation such as that referred to could emanate from any Dependency of Her Majesty without exercising some influence upon those concerned, of a more or less wholesome kind. We are not, therefore,
very much surprised, or even indignant,
at the result of the public movement of October last. The matters then brought to the notice of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies have neither been answered; denied, nor contested.
They therefore stand as the views of the Colonists as to the future administration of the Colony; and we do not think that any Secretary of State will ever suggest or sanction a step which would prove directly antagonistic to those views.
Besides, it must be borne in mind that,
in these days of telegraphy, Crown Colonies are governed principally from Downing Street.

REUTERS TELEGRAMS.

[SUPPLIED TO THE "CHINA MAIL."]
(Per E. E. A. & O. Telegraph Co.'s Line.)

VIA SINGAPORE, 15th September.

Official despatches state that the Cabul mutineers are without a leader, but that they are inciting the border tribes to make a flank attack on the Shitargarden, which a British column has occupied.

The Amer has written a letter to General
Roberts since the outbreak of the rebellion, declaring his sincere friendship for the British, and attempts to account for it by asserting that the attitude of the Indian Government made the people distrustful of the sincerity of its protestations.

The General demanded him to prove his friendship by keeping the frontier quiet.
Kandahar is reported tranquil.

The next ENGLISH MAIL may be expected here

A CASE was heard before the Honorable the Acting Puisne Judge to-day in which Mr.
Vierra brought a suit for $53, which he alleged he had lent to the defendant in 1874. Mr. Wotton appeared for defendant.

Mr. Vierra having received no payment on account of principal or interest, and no
acknowledgement in writing of the debt,
for the past three years, his Lordship gave judgment for defendant, without costs.

THE Band of the 27th Inniskillings played in the Public Gardens this afternoon from half-past four till half-past six o'clock.

Although the weather was beautifully cool,
the number of visitors was very small indeed, no previous intimation of the Promenade having been given.

OUR attention has been drawn to the fact that the West Road is getting into a very dilapidated condition; and that Bridges
Street is nearly unfit for human feet. Now, Stanley Street has been frequently opened, and things do not rapidly improve; but we should say that the first consideration of the Surveyor General's Department at the present moment is the construction and completion of the Praya Wall. After that work is finished, we do not hesitate to say that the roads will receive a greater share
of attention; if not, then growing correspondents will have their wishes fully gratified. There is one thing to be said, viz., that Kennedy Road seems still to be well
kept in repair.

A most sensible rule prevails in the Supreme Court in Summary Jurisdiction Court under which immediately on the Court assembling all the cases are run over roughly with a view to the Court coming to some understanding as to what cases have to be heard, which are undefended cases, in how many there are important points on which advocates will have to be heard, and so on. The benefits naturally arising from this rule have, however, been nullified by the parties in cases coming to take advantage of the custom and not appearing at the exact hour for which they were cited. There is a prospect now of this habit of Chinese taking liberties with the Court being done away with. To-day His Lordship instructed Mr. Ball to inform the Chinese in Court that, in future, all cases in which the parties failed to appear at ten o'clock, would be struck off. His Lordship also instructed the summonsserver to inform all parties on whom he served summonses of the order now made.

THE members of the Cricket Club met this evening at six o'clock in the Hongkong Club to receive the annual report and elect a committee for the ensuing year.—Mr. A.
Coxon being called to the chair. A bat was presented to Mr. Munro for the best batting average of the year, one for making the greatest number of runs and another for making seventy-seven runs in the match Army v. Navy. Mr. Munro accepted two of the bats he had won, giving the Club the benefit of the third. A bat was presented to Mr. Dunman for making eighty-one not out, in the match Club v. Garrison, and another to Lieut. Friend for scoring sixty-eight in the match Club v. Fire Brigade. Lieut.
Kelham was also entitled to a bat, for making seventy one, not out, in the match
East v. West, and Lt. Greer to a match bat for best bowling average; these two gentlemen are absent from the Colony and will consequently, not be presented with the bat and ball. Mr. Hynes was presented with a

and industry of the country, and to the social habits and moral condition of the people. In 1889 more than two thousand petitions were presented to Parliament in favour of the plan, and early in 1890 the penny postage was carried into effect with the assistance of Mr. Hill, who, for this purpose, received an appointment in the Treasury. A change of government having taken place, Mr. Hill was, in 1842, removed from office, on the alleged ground that his services—the value of which Government fully acknowledged—were no longer required. The public, however, justly considered him ill-used, and he was rewarded in 1846, by a public testimonial of the value of £13,860. In 1849 he was engaged in the management of the London and Brighton Railway, of which company, in 1846, he became chairman; in 1848 was appointed Secretary to the Postmaster-General, and in 1854 Chief Secretary, in the room of Col. Maberly. He was made a K.C.B., civil division, in 1860, in acknowledgment of his services at the Post Office. In March, 1864, his health having suffered seriously from the great labour he had undergone, he retired; and the Treasury, in a highly complimentary minute, declaring the entire success of his plans, awarded him, for life, his full salary of £2,000 a year. In the same year he received a Parliamentary grant of £20,000, the first Albert gold medal of the Society of Arts, and the honorary degree of D.C.L. (Oxon). In 1866 he was appointed a member of a Royal Commission on Railways, but as his views on the subject differed from those of the majority, he made a separate report.

CORRESPONDENCE.

OFFICIAL INSPECTION OF BOILERS AND MACHINERY.

To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."

SIR,—It may be some satisfaction to you to know that your article on the necessity for a Government Inspector of Machinery most cordially deserves the thanks of all Engineers running in these waters, and equally so, all passengers. Since the loss of the Yesso this has been a standing topic of conversation amongst the profession. Starting as it may seem, I do not hesitate to affirm that there are steamers still running in these waters whose boilers are in little better condition than those of the ill-fated Yesso. To complain to owners and agents means loss of trade at once, and consequently Soft-patch follows. Soft-patch will one day be the fate of the Yesso. Did passengers realize what this conveys, they would hesitate to make an hour's journey in such craft.

Were there an Inspector this scandal would cease at once. Had Engineers a society, this matter would doubtless have had the attention it deserves—but it is to be hoped His Excellency will redeem the promise long since made to have this subject set at rest. I will, I am sure, prove a very difficult one—but nevertheless it will bring all the more credit on the present administration. The community will look to the non-officials to support His Excellency in any measures that may be brought forward to meet this important public question. There is one matter in connection with this that His Excellency should clearly understand, and that is agents are very reluctant to have their steamers laid up for repairs, as their commissions cease with the running of the steamer; and consequently a good deal of opposition may be expected from these quarters, unless the Government prove to be very considerate in the application of the new rules. Every consideration that can be given, compatible with the public safety ought to be extended to those engaged in these branches of trade; but the safety of the public, when such comes into question, must stand first.

S. O.

To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."

SIR,—It seems to me about time for the Inspector of Buildings—or perhaps better say of Nuisances—should enquire into the reason why the contractors who are building the houses in the Queen's Road, have not yet got the pathways clear for traffic, as the buildings were destroyed last year in December. I think the suggestion is worth looking into, especially as traffic is so much impeded.

R.

SUPREME COURT.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

(Before the Hon. the Acting Puisne Judge, J. J. Francis, Esq.)

Tuesday, Sept. 16.

THE ACTING COLONIAL TREASURER, v. R. F. GUTIERREZ, $420.—This was a claim for taxes on garden property owned by defendant.

Defendant pleaded no liability, as the garden produced no rental.

His Lordship gave judgment for plaintiff, and informed Mr. Gutierrez that he should have objected to the valuation of the property, last year.

GOMES v. ALABOR, $189.—This was a claim for house rent. Mr. Stephens for plaintiff, Mr. Denny for defendant.

Mr. Denny admitted $129 of the claim and disputed the balance, that being the rent for August. The defence was that proper notice to quit had not been given, notice having been given on the 7th July, and that defendant had not been able to live in the house while it was undergoing repairs.

Mr. Stephens denied that repairs were commenced on the house before the end of August.

The case will be heard to-morrow at ten o'clock.

ARNOLD v. LOW, $25.53.—This was a claim under a bill of lading, for short delivery.

Mr. Brereton appeared for plaintiff, Mr. Johnson for defendant.

Defendant denies the short delivery. His Lordship fixed 1.30 to-morrow for the case.

LANDSTEIN v. TONG YUN SY, $675.55. Mr. Johnson, for plaintiff, Mr. Denny, for defendant.

This case was before the Court last week, when Mr. Denny admitted the claim and put forward a counter-claim for $700, for which a cross-summons was to be taken out. This, however, he had been unable to do, owing to the absence from the Colony of one of the partners in his client's firm.

Mr. Johnson argued that the claim having been admitted, and no cross-summons having been taken out, judgment should not be allowed to stand over. Mr. Denny, for his client, admitted the debt on behalf of his firm, and asked that the summons be amended to include the other partners, as his client did not contract the debt at all.

Order made that summons be amended. It was finally agreed that the amount admitted be paid into Court, by Mr. Denny, within twenty-four hours, and to remain there until Tuesday next; and if the cross-summons be not taken out by that time, the amount to be paid out to plaintiff.

Police Intelligence.

(Before C. V. Creagh, Esq.)

Tuesday, Sept. 16.

DR. BROWN AGAIN.—Dr. John McMahon Brown was again charged with being drunk and refusing to pay chair hire on the 15th inst.

Defendant admitted owing the chair coolies forty cents and also the charge of drunkenness. He was ordered to pay forty cents to the coolies and fined half a dollar, in default of payment, three days' imprisonment.

Lam Akwal, a rice-pounder, charged by Lam Ahi, with stealing a pair of trousers, was found guilty, and was sent to gaol for twenty-one days with hard labor.

Chan Ahee, a painter, was charged by Wong Aho, a married woman, with assaulting her and using grossly abusive language towards her, on the 15th inst.

Prisoner was fined $2, in default of payment seven days' imprisonment and to be exposed in the stocks for three hours.

Lam Aloi, was charged with stealing two pieces of wood, value $1 on the 15th inst.

Defendant admitted having had four weeks in gaol in June last for stealing wood, and was fined $25, in default of payment, three months' imprisonment with hard labor.

NEWS IN ADVANCE OF THE MAIL.

By the courtesy of Captain Auld of the Glenartney we are able to give the following cuttings from English papers up to the 8th August. By the same steamer we have also Indian papers to hand, from which we obtain several important telegrams:—

It is stated that the Prime Minister has advised the Queen to confer the honour of an earldom on Lord Lytton, in return for his "services" in connection with the Afghan war.

There is reason for believing that before the expiry of the present Parliament, and not improbably at the end of the present session, the Right Hon. H. B. Brand will retire from the Speakership. According to present anticipations, he will be succeeded by Sir M. W. Ridley, Bart.

The Emperor of Germany has ennobled the only son of Dr. Falk, who has just retired from the Ministry of Public Worship. The new noble is a second lieutenant in the Fusiliers of the Guard. Dr. Falk, on his retirement, was offered this distinction in consideration of his services to the Prussian State, but declined it in favour of his son.

The Emperor of Austria has finally fixed August 9 for his visit to the Emperor William at Gastein.

The Vienna Neue Freie Presse publishes a despatch from Corfu stating that there is every indication that the Albanians will offer a determined resistance to the entry of the Austrian troops, and that they are encouraged in this attitude by Italian agents. The Albanians, it is said, demand autonomy, and speak of an Italian Prince as the future ruler of their country.

A statue of M. Thiers at Nancy was unveiled on Aug. 3, in the presence of about 20,000 persons. Five of the French Ministers and Madame Thiers were present at the ceremony, and speeches were made by MM. Martel, Lepère, and Jules Simon.

The Times has reason to believe that Lieut.-General Valentine Baker Pasha is likely to be nominated by the Ottoman Government to an important civil and military post in Kurdistan.

A rumour comes from St. Petersburg that the Empress of Russia intends shortly paying a visit to the Isle of Wight for the benefit of her health. She will travel strictly incognito.

At the Ministerial banquet, in the City, on August 6, Lord Beaconsfield spoke with the placid tones of a man who has simply to repose upon his laurels—the Berlin Treaty, the war in Afghanistan, the South African trouble—he could refer to each and all with satisfaction, and his only sorrow was that Lord Hartington should have spoken so unwisely recently, upon the land question, as to suggest that it was expecting too much that the tillage of the soil should find a living for three classes. Lord Beaconsfield attempted to prove that the land could better sustain the three than only one class; and as this is a question now under consideration in India, the discussion has more than home interest.

With regard to the war in South America, the Peruvian Minister in London hears from Panama that "Iquique was again bombarded by Chilean fleet; only two persons killed, and small damage." He has also received the following message from New York, dated August 5:—"The Huascar and Union entered Chilean ports and destroyed launches. They captured the Chilean war steamer Rimac, with the whole cavalry regiment Tugay, horses and armament, on board; besides three Chilean merchant vessels with coals and copper."

It is stated that 137 deaths from yellow fever occurred in Havana during the past week, and that during the month of July there were 537 fatal cases.

The Army and Navy Gazette learns on the best possible authority that Her Majesty will be recommended to permit Capt. Carey, 95th Regt., to return to duty; there being, in the opinion of the highest authorities, nothing to substantiate the charge of cowardice, his act having been one of indiscretion—nothing more.

Among the promotions which take place in succession to General Sir James Brind, K.C.B., who has been placed on the Retired List, is that of Capt. Frederick G. Burnaby, Royal Horse Guards, who becomes major.

A selection from the writings of the late Mr. W. Forsyth, editor of the Aberdeen Journal, is in course of preparation. The work will be accompanied by a memoir from the pen of Mr. Alexander Walker, who edited, in 1871, a volume of selections from the writings of John Ramsay, Mr. Forsyth's predecessor.

In the course of the autumn there will appear a work on Cyprus from the pen of the wife of the late adjutant of the 42nd Highlanders. This officer, when his regiment left the island, stayed behind in command of the military police, and Mrs. Scott Stevenson, having learned modern Greek, has been able, during her residence at Kyrenia, to gain a considerable insight into the habits of the country people.

The Hon. W. Taylor Thomson, C.B., British Minister at Teheran, will be the bearer of a handsome present from Her Majesty to the Shah of Persia. It consists of a very fine specimen of modern English coach-building in the shape of a park barouche, painted in brilliant amber and crimson colours, the first predominating.

The Sultan has telegraphed to the Khedive demanding permission for the ex-Khedive to return to Egypt, to reside at Alexandria or Damietta. The Khedive has, however, been counselled by the British and French Consuls-General to defer replying to the Sultan's despatch until they have had an opportunity of referring to their Governments on the subject.

Lord Salisbury and Sir Stafford Northcote had some friendly sparring in the City as champions of the House they represented. Lord Salisbury suggested that the Lower House made speeches, but the Upper House Bills. The Army Bill occupied the former 198 hours; the Peers disposed of it in two. Then the House of Lords had the proud distinction of creating an Irish University Bill. Sir Stafford replied, respecting the Army Bill, that it was easy enough to launch a ship when it was built; and that the Lords' Irish University Bill was such a poor piece of work that the Commons had to add to it what was called "the kernel" of the whole affair. He was not surprised, however, that the noble Lord should be frolicsome, the end of the Session having arrived. There is much floundering in the House of Commons among a number of measures that the Chancellor of the Exchequer is reluctant to throw over. As to the Banking Bill, when asked to abandon it he simply says, "I won't." Parliament has, however, found time to pass a vote of thanks—not without opposition—to the Viceroy and the army for the Afghan settlement, and to vote supplies for Zululand.

The whole tenor of the news from the Cape, says a contemporary, points to peace. The Zulus appear to have broken up as a nation, and the various chiefs are hastening to make the best terms possible for themselves. Their followers do not seem to be coming in with so great an alacrity as that exhibited by the chiefs—but it may be they are waiting to learn the precise terms which Sir Garnet Wolsley will offer. At any rate, it may be said that the southern half of Zululand is now conquered; and it is probable that this portion will never again form part of an independent country. The northern division of Cetewayo's dominion is still untouched, and one account states that a body of some 7,000 Zulus is there forming to escort the King north. Of Cetewayo really nothing is known. He is reported as having taken refuge in the Ingono forest with his wives, but at any rate he has sent no message to any of the generals commanding columns. The chiefs appear unanimous in affirming that he shall never again reign over them, and it is considered probable that he will be captured and handed over to us. He would be a troublesome prisoner, for we should not know what to do with him. He has fought us well and fairly, and so far as the present war is concerned, it is by no means certain that he has not throughout been acting within his rights. He has, in fact, been conquered because he was too dangerous a neighbour; but this, although possibly a fair reason for breaking his power, is no reason whatever for punishing him personally. At the same time, as it is clear that so long as Cetewayo is at liberty he will be a centre of plots and troubles, it is desirable that he should be taken; but, if taken, this country will certainly be indignant if he be treated in any other way than as a gallant foe who has fought nobly in defence of his kingdom, and to whom the respect due to bravery and misfortune is to be paid. With the military organisation of the country entirely broken up, with the southern portion altogether separated from it, and with all his great chiefs content with the new order of things, Cetewayo's power of mischief is at an end, and he need no longer be treated as an enemy to be feared.

News from Civita Vecchia tells of a striking act of courage performed by Garibaldi's daughter, a child of twelve years old. While bathing a young man, who could not swim, got out of his depth, and at his cry for help she struck out bravely for him, caught him as he was sinking, and brought him safe to land.

The death took place on August 5 of the Infanta Maria del Pilar, the second sister of the King of Spain. She had been taking the baths at Escorial, in the Basque Provinces, and was seized with a nervous fit, followed by congestion of the brain, after a ball given by the local authorities. The deceased was born on June 4, 1861, and consequently had just completed her eighteenth year.

In official circles at Madrid the alliance of King Alfonso with the Archduchess Maria Christina of Austria is now regarded as certain, although the death of the Princess Pilar will delay the celebration of the marriage.

TELEGRAMS.

(Indian Papers.)

Simla, August 21.—The Amir of Afghanistan has ordered troops to Badakhshan to maintain order on the frontier. Cholera is again on the increase at Kabul; the Regiments which arrived recently from Herat have lost over one hundred men. Some reports say 365. It is probable that the continuation of the telegraph line to Kabul will be immediately undertaken. Major Sir Robert Sandeman has visited Khetlat and was cordially received by the Khan in a great Durban.

Simla, August 22.—Government has granted six months' donation batta to the troops who crossed the frontier and served during the late operations in Afghanistan.

London, August 22.—The Times announces that the court martial on Lieutenant Carey gave sentence of guilty with dismissal from the service, but recommended him to mercy. The British authorities, however, decided that the evidence did not justify his conviction and have quashed the proceedings. Lieutenant Carey will be released from arrest to-day, and retains his rank.

London, August 23.—The Grand Cross of the Bath has been conferred on Lord Chelmsford.

Rome, August 23.—Garibaldi is recovering. He returns shortly to Capri.

London, August 26.—Heavy rains and disastrous floods still continue throughout the country.

A small detachment of General Lazareff's force advanced on 20th July to Chat. There is considerable difficulty as regards transport, water is scarce, and mortality great from dysentery and fever. It is believed that General Lazareff's advance with the main body will be postponed till the cold season.

The Queen-Empress presented Lord William Bessborough with the Victoria Cross on the 26th August.

Constantinople, August 25.—The Commissioners appointed to consider the question of the ratification of the Greek frontier have held their first meeting. The Turkish Government is disbanding the reserves in consequence of its financial embarrassment.

Simla, August 26.—Major Sir Robert Sandeman has left Khetlat for Kandahar.

London, August 26.—Lord Chelmsford has arrived in England from the Cape.

Russia has consented to restore Kuldja to China.

London, August 27.—A successor to Count Andrassy has not yet been appointed. Count Andrassy is at present visiting Prince Bismarck, who will return his visit at Vienna. These interviews are interpreted as indicating an alliance between Germany and Austria.

A letter by the Duke of Cambridge ordering Captain Carey's release has been published. In it he commends Colonel Harrison. Obituary.—Sir Rowland Hill.

Aden, August 27.—The Sumatra with mails of 16th instant left for Bombay at 8 this morning; the Zombardy for Galle and Calcutta at 12 noon.

A special London telegram states that Lord Chelmsford received an ovation upon landing at Plymouth. His Lordship was very cordially received by the Princess of Wales on board the royal yacht. His Lordship immediately visited the Queen, Her Majesty postponing her journey to Balmoral until after the interview.

Simla, August 28.—The political officer at Vatakri telegraphs that the Maris have raided Khetram and Bazdars and looted 1,400 cattle from the former and 600 from the latter; the Bejranas and the Gloganis were concerned, and that great uneasiness is felt among the tribes owing to the rumoured withdrawal of the troops from Candahar. The deaths by cholera of Sirdars Ali Akbar and Asker Khan, brothers of Sirdar Sher Ali Khan, who have recently arrived from Herat, are reported. The epidemic has almost, if not entirely, ceased in both city and cantonments. Weather still very warm.

RE-ADVANCE ON ULUNDI.

By the arrival of the Arab at Madras news has been received from the Cape up to July 22.

Preparations were being made for sending a considerable portion of the troops back to England. Public opinion in the colony is very much opposed to this step; and it is considered that Sir Garnet Wolsley is altogether premature in believing the war to be at an end. So strong has been the effect on the native mind of our precipitate retirement from Ulundi, that Sir Garnet Wolsley has been forced to reconsider his determination, and will return with a column of troops to that place, where he will receive some of the native chiefs. Lord Chelmsford has arrived, and has received an enthusiastic ovation at Durban and Maritzburg.

A Reuter's telegram says:—"Sir Garnet Wolsley and Lord Chelmsford met on July 16 at St. Paul's. His lordship arrived on July 20 at Durban, where he was well received. The mayor of the town presented him with an address. Several Zulu chiefs offered their submission to Sir Garnet Wolsley at St. Paul's. The General is stated to have told them not to regard Cetewayo as their king, and to have assured them that their country would be governed and the people protected by the British authorities. On the following day, at Umfolosi, other chiefs surrendered.

A strong force, under Lieut.-Col. Clark, is to advance on Ulundi immediately. Sir Garnet Wolsley having promised the chiefs to be there on Aug. 10. A detachment of Swazies, Shernabruker's Irregulars, and probably also, General Newdigate's column, will simultaneously advance upon the King's new kraal. An official denial is given to a report that Sir Bartle Frere had resigned. Sir Garnet Wolsley proceeds to Pietermaritzburg.

General Crealock, Brigadier-General Wood, and Col. Buller return to England. The transport Julia has re-embarked the Royal Marines, and will return to England on the 24th inst.

THE RETURN OF THE BRITISH MISSION FROM MANDALAY.

(Rangoon Gazette, Aug. 26.)

The return of Colonel Horace Browne from Mandalay may be expected before long, and the rumours therefore that have been current of late regarding this event are not without foundation; but it is not known with any certainty when Colonel Browne will leave Mandalay, though we believe he is at liberty to consult his own convenience in the matter. Mr. St. Barbe, the Political Agent of Bhamo, was to have come down to Rangoon to get medical advice; but he has not yet started it is highly probable that he will remain at Mandalay for the present, in charge of the Residency, assisted by Mr. Phayre. It is much to be regretted that when Colonel Horace Browne leaves the whole Residency establishment cannot accompany him, shaking the dust off their shoes as they leave the wretched interfering place, to return to it no more until they can do so as conquerors. We have sent up Colonel Horace Browne to Mandalay to try his persuasive powers on the Burmese Government so as to get matters between them and ourselves on a satisfactory footing, but to little or no purpose. Such of the old ministers of the late King as have been retained in office intimate, we believe, their willingness to meet our wishes; but, whether this friendly spirit be a genuine one or not, it is certain that the immediate envoys of the present King, composed as it is of a strong anti-English party, are opposed to any concession to us; and this feeling is by no means made a matter of secrecy. An entire review of our position in Upper Burma, since the accession of the present young sovereign, will not help to impress an impartial observer with a sense of our dignity or diplomatic skill. We have metaphorically looked the dust before a petty monarch, and yet been spurned with contempt. We sent up Colonel Horace Browne heavily handicapped to carry on as it were a game of cross purposes with the Burmese Government without giving him a single trump card to enable him to ensure success, and the result was naturally failure. Pitting a straightforward English officer, by his abilities ever so great, and debarring him from using any more effective weapon than moral suasion, against a crafty double-dealing set of ministers, hampered with scruples of any kind, is as unfair a proceeding as anything we know of. It is only just to Colonel Horace Browne's reputation to mention this, as otherwise reflections injurious to his fame as a diplomatist may be made on his want of success which he in no way deserves. Had he been given full liberty of action and speech—to speak out his mind as an English envoy ought to speak, and to haul down his flag and retire if he deemed it due to our dignity to do so—we should not have had the negotiations regarding the Upper Burma difficulty ending as a perfect fiasco. No new treaty, no new Residency with a proper garrison, no dispensing with the degrading ceremony of unbooth before an audience can be obtained with the King; in fact nothing has been done which would compensate us for the immense losses the province has been put to. Where and how it is all to end no man can exactly say, though one may make a fair conjecture. Diplomacy has failed, and we suppose therefore that the only alternative left to us, when the claims of party at home are satisfied and those of the Empire are begun to be attended to, is that last appeal of nations, when shall be avenged the blood of murdered men, maida, and matrons so freely shed like water by the bloodthirsty fiend Theebaw.

THE ZULU WAR.

DESPATCH FROM SIR GARNET WOLSELEY, SURRENDER OF NATIVE CHIEFS.

News has been received from the Cape, by way of Madeira, to July 15th. The following despatch from Sir Garnet Wolsley has been received at the War Office:—

PORT DURBAN (via Madeira).—General Crealock made reconnaissance seventy miles, July 5, with mounted force. Burned military kraals, Undini, six; fifty huts. Heavy rains. Supplies for a month for both divisions pushed on from base to Port Durban, sea and land; landing uncertain, off and on. I arrived Port Durban July 7; sent messages to principal chiefs to meet me Empanjeni kraal. Telegraph open to here. Stopped marines Simon's Bay; considering whether to send them back to England. Many and important submissions to Crealock; nearly whole district, but very few fighting men. Drafts from England remain Durban. Heavy rains stopped Chelmsford's movements. Proposed to form brigade of three battalions, artillery, engineers, squadron cavalry, for Transvaal. Am reducing expenditure. Part of naval brigade embarked. Some colonial corps being disbanded, not now required. Egypt, with 117 men, 800 horses, Lanciers, and artillery sent back to Cape without disembarking. Cetewayo retired Ngonwe Forest; wants confirming. Mule train on coast working well, stage system. Chelmsford has had sixty hours' cold rain. Great loss in cattle and horses. Was with flying column at Kwamagwasa on the 11th. Reports bodies of Scott Douglas (21st) and Corporal Cotter (Lancers) found near there; buried yesterday. Evidently lost their way and had been attacked. Second Division, Newdigate, ten miles from Port Evelyn, Amanzimpofo, on 10th, moving to a river for grass and wood; country quiet there. Dabulamanzi and three other chiefs submitted. Rowlands, with 88th, two guns, 99th, troop of horse, acting under Clifford, left Port Chelmsford 13th for Etchowe, with convoy to await Lord Chelmsford at Umwalazi River, north of Etchowe. Army Service Corps from Juma at Cape ordered up here. Ninety days' supply for 2nd Division in Upoko Valley. Much damage to stock by storm. Heliographs working perfectly. Stations at Altezei, Marshall, Evelyn, Kwamagwasa, and one being established at St. Paul's.

13th.—Small flying column under Baker Russell started 14th for Umvalazi River, twelve days' supplies following.

PORT DURBAN, July 14.—No. 5, 2nd Division has returned from neighbourhood of Ulundi to valley of Upoko River, where wood, water, and grass, can be had in abundance, and troops easily fed. Flying column with Lord Chelmsford is to day at St. Paul's, where a fortified post will be established in its rear at Kwamagwasa. I intend visiting flying column at St. Paul's before it retires to a position near Etchowe, where I can feed it from the Lower Tugela. I may have to use it in clearing out the country near Inkana and Middle Drift. Lord Chelmsford wishes to return to England, and I have given him permission to do so. Naval brigade embarks here in a few days. Am disbanding some of the expensive irregular cavalry corps. I intend to move a brigade into Transvaal. I am anxious to keep troops in position as far forward in Zululand as I can there until political position is more firmly settled. Dabulamanzi and another of the King's brothers surrendered here yesterday. He commanded the enemy at Rorke's Drift. All the chiefs of the coast district as far as Amatony frontier have now surrendered. They, and I hope several others, are to meet me at Empanjeni next Saturday, 19th, to lay down their arms. Those I have already seen declare they do not wish to have Cetewayo as their chief any longer. The King, with his wives and concubines and a small following, is said to be in the Ngonwe Forest. He has not sent in any message since my message to him at the beginning of this month. Health of No. 1 Division is improving. I am sending all sickly to the rear.

Thursday, July 15, 12.30 Noon.—Say how corps here are to be disposed of when war is over.

The special correspondent of the Daily News, telegraphing from Port Durban on July 14, says:—

Military operations in the immediate future are impracticable. Sir Garnet Wolsley has no intention of chasing Cetewayo into the Bush country beyond Amancwazi, nor could he if he would. The Zulu power is broken by defeat and defections, but Cetewayo while at large is still in a sense the master of the situation. The chiefs of the sea coast up to St. Lucia Bay have either come in or stated their intention to do so, but they do not constitute the martial heart of Zululand. Sir Garnet Wolsley had circulated an intimation far and wide that he would meet all friendly inclined chiefs at Empanjeni, about nine miles north from the Umfolosi River, and to-day a flying column, consisting of cavalry and the 87th Regt., under Col. Baker Russell, moves forward to that spot, accompanied or followed by Sir Garnet Wolsley and his staff. The terms which Sir Garnet has announced to the chiefs inclining to come in are that they should give up their arms and Cetewayo's cattle they have in charge, on which conditions their own cattle are to be restored and passes granted securing their non-molestation. He has told them he has no intention to annex their territory or interfere with their ordinary customs, but that Cetewayo is now a fugitive who never can be restored, and that his military system can never be re-established. The general deals now only with the Zulu nation, as represented by its head men. The remark occurs on this, that Cetewayo has never been dethroned.

July 15.—The policy Sir Garnet Wolsley is adopting is the same old game, flagitious in itself but unavoidable through the necessities of the situation—I mean the policy of setting black man against black man. Capt. McLeod has been commissioned to stir up the Swazis to aggression on the Zulus, placated by the price of 5,000 cattle, stolen by Cetewayo's head. Leigh has been duped to the Amatongas to kindle among them a mercenary friendship, and constitute them our King catchers. Col. George Villiers goes to Utrecht as political agent with Oham, who is offered 5,000 cattle as a reward for his fraternal act of catching for us his brother. Major Schwabe has been appointed to the command of the corps of Kafir carriers, of whose efficiency I entertain the lowest opinion. They will eat more than they carry; and go to the front like snails, to the rear like antelopes.

The special correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in a despatch dated Cape Town, July 14, says:—

When a settlement with the chiefs is effected Sir Garnet Wolsley proceeds to the Transvaal, Crealock remaining in local command until Sir Garnet returns, when Lord Chelmsford and Crealock will leave for England, and the troops not locally needed will scatter in various directions, it not being Sir Garnet's intention to pursue Cetewayo, who, with his wives, cattle, and some hundreds of followers, remains at a spot in the north-east corner of Zululand well known to John Dunn, who says that the King hopes to join Secoceni, but will probably be killed by his followers. Dunn says also that the Zulus consider the King to be virtually deposed, as he has no royal kraals. Meanwhile many chiefs adhere to him, and numbers of followers. The suggestions to pursue the King with cavalry are absurd, owing to the nature of the country. The Swazis are reported to be projecting a crossing of the Pongola River in hostile pursuit of Cetewayo. The north-west of Zululand is still in arms, but, with the number of its dead and 5,000 submitted, the nation is crippled beyond any power of doing mischief. It is feared that there will be a severe famine next year, this being seed time, and no land being sown yet, while much seed has been destroyed and cattle seized. These are bad auspices for a new rule. Zululand will probably be divided into four or five districts, each under a native chief, with Dunn in some superior position. A small force will suffice to hold the line of posts; for a fair regard being shown to their wishes and prejudices, it is expected that the Zulus will cheerfully assist in the settlement of the country. A cable message received at Durban from the Kanaroo, Delagoa Bay, states that Sir Garnet Wolsley had ordered Lanyon to suspend further hostilities against Secoceni, believing it politic, pending the settlement of Zulu affairs, to give that chief the least possible reason for sympathy with Cetewayo, who might attempt a junction with Secoceni. The forces hitherto acting against the chief have, therefore, been withdrawn for the patrol of the Transvaal border, to prevent Zululand from breaking through. Sir Garnet's action is condemned by all parties alike throughout the country, Secoceni being an enemy of long standing, whose stubborn resistance Lanyon had patiently, skillfully, and successfully combated, and whom, with the levies recently organised, he would have certainly brought to reason in a week or two. It is impossible, however, not to sympathise with Sir Garnet Wolsley's anxiety not to prejudice the Zulu situation by other complications. His action, moreover, accords with the spirit of the Secretary of State's minute, regarding fresh interference with natives. The colonial feeling, however, is very strong on the subject.
